

Regenerate Ventures EIS AgTech Fund

Regenerate Ventures are a specialist investor in ideas and innovations that will transform global agriculture, and help to create a more sustainable world. The partners have an outstanding record of investing in innovation, and have hands on experience of the needs of the agriculture industry. The fund will invest in innovations such as ways to revitalise tired soils, increase crop yields, create smarter means of irrigation, as well as pest and insect control, to name but a few. Our aim is to help fix the broken agrifood supply chain and to help with food security and safety on a global scale.

Founded in 2021 Regenerate Ventures is the only dedicated AgriTech EIS fund in the UK. Regenerate invests in early-stage agricultural technologies that are helping farmers to transition to more sustainable farming practices and to decarbonise the agricultural sector. We look for seed and growth stage start-ups that are founded by exceptional entrepreneurs. We make sure the companies have a minimum viable product that is ready for market and globally scalable with multi-billion-dollar opportunities. We focus on upstream AgriTech (in the farmgate) in areas such as BioTech & Genetics, robotics, data science, satellite imagery and sensors.

The team running the fund have over 30 years experience investing in AgriTech and the renewable energy sector. They are ideally placed to make the most informed decisions on the technologies that will shape the future of Agriculture. The team is supported by an advisory board with over 200+ years of combined experience in the sector and a resource of global contacts and expertise. The partners between them have invested over £400 million across 4 private equity and 2 venture capital funds. Paul Rous was co-founder of both Fuel Ventures and Blackfinch Ventures. Ben Stafford and Ryan Cameron both held senior positions at Impax. David Bates developed several ESG funds across the UK, Europe and Africa.

Why we wanted to support the ESG report:

Regenerate Ventures has been working closely with ESG Accord since inception. With the environment and sustainability being at the forefront of all decisions made at Regenerate Ventures, it seemed only natural to support ESG Accord in their aim to bring together the funds and financial services that are trying to reach this goal of improved ESG reporting. We feel ESG Accord is shining a light on this much needed topic and offering investors more transparency and clarity within the sector.

ESG & Sustainability at Regenerate Ventures:

All of our investments at Regenerate Ventures have to have a positive impact on the environment and also help in our mission towards sustainable food production. We look for all our portfolio companies to be quantifiably reducing carbon emissions through the use of their novel technologies. ESG is of great importance to our due diligence process and we are looking to implement an ESG and impact framework around our future portfolio.
